

PHOTOGRAPHS

With the spread of Covid 19 around the UK and much of the world it can be understandably stressful if you cannot access online services like finding up to date accurate news or health information or being able to buy essential items online.

We have put together a series of guides with links to trusted websites and trusted places to learn— we hope that these resources will be useful and help you to improve and learn new digital skills.

The corona virus outbreak has left a lot of us worried and anxious for the latest information

Using online resources can be a great way to find out more about how to take and manipulate great photographs. All the sites below have lots of information.

These sites have a wealth of information about how to manage photographs, how to move them from cameras and smartphones to a computer, and how to share them with friends and family. YouTube has lots of video guides on all things photographic

<https://edu.gcfglobal.org/en/topics/creativity-and-design/>

<https://www.digitalunite.com/technology-guides/digital-photography>

<https://www.youtube.com/>

<https://pixlr.com/editor/> This is a site where you can manipulate photos online – it has many of the features of Adobe Photoshop, but there is no downloading involved – you can work directly online.

There are also many sites to assist you with making photobooks, and all sorts of other merchandise such as tea towels, mugs, calendars etc.

PH*TOBOX <https://www.photobox.co.uk/> is just one of many such sites

A member of the

Online Centres
Network for 10 years

If you need any help or advice on using the resources in this guide, please email digitalinclusion@cornwall.gov.uk