ResilienceDirect Cornwall Council Pages access and End User agreements

The categories of the information that we collect, process, hold and share include:

Individuals who have requested or been granted access to Cornwall Council managed pages on ResilienceDirect Names, Job title, Organisation, work address, Cornwall Council Payroll reference or National Insurance Number.

Why we collect and use this information

Section 2 of the Civil Contingencies Act 2004 requires the Local Authority (Cornwall Council) to maintain plans for the purpose of ensuring that if an emergency occurs or is likely to occur it is able to perform its functions so far as is necessary or desirable for the purpose of reducing, controlling or mitigating its effects.

ResilienceDirect is a secure repository provided by the Government. Use of the system requires individuals to be positively identifiable using the information set out above together with acceptance of the End User Agreement. Annual audit processes ensure revalidation of access approval and information supplied.

The collection and use of personal data is done so as the processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject (Section 2 Civil Contingencies Act 2004 and Article 6(1)(c) of the GDPR).

Storing this information

Information provided will be securely stored electronically and only used for the purpose of contacting the members in connection with the Faith Response Team management and mobilisation. The information will be stored by Cornwall Council on the secure ResilienceDirect system, with strictly limited access and will not be processed outside of the UK. Access to your information will only be made to authorised members of staff who are required to process it for the purposes outlined in this privacy notice.

The information will be kept for as long as an individual identified within the data set is an approved ResilienceDirect User and has access to Cornwall Council pages thereon. An annual audit will be carried out to ensure that the data is necessary and up to date.

Who we share this information with and why

The information will not ordinarily be shared beyond team members of Cornwall Council's Resilience & Emergency Management Team. However during an emergency specific contact information may be shared with appropriate support staff for the purpose of making contact with Emergency Support Assistants to request their help during, or in preparation for a crisis.

Requesting access to your personal data and your rights

Your personal information belongs to you and you have the right to:

- be informed of how we will process it
- request a copy of what we hold about you and in commonly used electronic format if you wish (if you provided this to us electronically for automated processing, we will return it in the same way)
- have it amended if it's incorrect or incomplete
- have it deleted (where we do not have a legal requirement to retain it)
- withdraw your consent if you no longer wish us to process it
- restrict how we process it
- object to us using it for marketing or research purposes
- object to us using it in relation to a legal task or in the exercise of an official authority
- request that a person reviews an automated decision where it has had an adverse effect on you

You are legally entitled to request access to any information about you that we hold, and a copy using the subject access request. Use the links below to find out more:
